TUESDAY, MAY 6. 1740.

NUMB. 1522

1740

Yesterday arrived the Mails due from Holland, France, and Flanders.

Petersburgh, April 19. N. S.

De Lisle, Member of the Academy of Sciences, is set out for the Mouth of the River Oby, to make Astronomical Observations upon the Immersion of Mercury. Some Deputies are arriv'd here from Moscow, to present the Court with a Plan of that City, which is re-almost all new, since the Fire by which Half of it was some Years ago reduc'd to Ashes. Six Men of War being expected from Archangel to join our Fleet of War at Cronstadt, the Fleet will then consist of 30 or 35 stout Ships.

Rome, April 23. N. S. There are two principal Factions in the Conclave, distinguish'd by the Names of the Old College and the New one. The former, which consists of Cardinals that by way of Distinction are called Zelanti, or Zealots, has 20 Votes whom it can depend upon, to exclude any Cardinal they have a Mind to; and the latter has 25. It seems, that the Cardinals Ruffo, Corradini, Picco, and Gotti are the Men whom the Old College intend to insist themselves for, and that the New College is for Cardinals Aldrovandi, Delci, and Cenci. Mr. Bedford, who is in the Service of the Chevalier de St. George, is gone for Naples; from whence we are inform'd, that it has been resolv'd in Council to take Lynch and Maclean the two Officers out of the Conclave, who fled thither for Refuge after assassinating the Colonel of the Irish Regiment; but that they could not agree whether to do it at Noon-Day or at Night. Mean time they are order'd to be prosecuted.

Letters from thence of the 19th say, that so far from revoking the Decree in Favour of the Jews, there is a Talk of granting them new Advantages; and that some wealthy Jews are arriv'd there, besides others who have brought a great Quantity of valuable Merchandises, and are to have Leave to hire Shops as well as other Tradesmen. The People, 'tis true, are still very uneasy about it, but such severe Orders are publish'd against such as offer to hurt them, that they will be oblig'd to be silent.

The Chevalier de St. George receiv'd a Visit this Week from the Prince de Craon, whose Princess design'd to see the Cardinal de Rohan, and knowing that no Woman could be admitted into the Place where the Conclave is held without Leave, petition'd the Cardinals Chiefs of the Orders, who consented to it without any Scruple. A printed Libel has been sent to the Conclave from Naples, full of Complaints against Cardinal Spinelli their Archbishop, but the Cardinals have not thought fit to take any Notice of it.

Madrid, April 19. N. S. Don Joseph d'Armenar, Knight of the Order of the Golden Fleece, Captain-General of the King's Forces, Lieutenant-General of the Regiment of Spanish Guards, and here Viceroy of Peru and Chili, dy'd here on the 10th, in the 73d Year of his Age immensely rich.

Leghorn, April 22. The British Consul here has receiv'd a Letter to the Sacred College, importing, 'That the Delay in releasing the English Ship unjustly detain'd at Civra Vecchia can be look'd upon by the British Court as nothing less than an Act of Parricide; that it was surprizing that the Ecclesiastical State should act upon Principles different from those the Princes that continued neuter in the present War betwixt Great Britain and Spain; that he therefore hop'd the Vessel would be releas'd without more Delay, for fear of exposing the Coasts of the Ecclesiastical State to fatal Reprisals from the British Men of War and Privateers.'

They write from Turin, that great Preparations are making there for the Marriage of the Prince of Savoy's only Son, who is 20 Years old, to the Queen of Sardinia's Sister the Princess of Hesse Infants Rothembourg, who is 24.

IRELAND.

Dublin, April 29. On the 2d Inst. the Assizes began at Kilkenny, where one Phelan, Captain of the Kel-lymount Gang was try'd the 5th, found guilty and condemn'd the same Day, and hang'd and beheaded the 7th: His Behaviour after Sentence was very uncommon, his Resolution and Resignation surprizing, especially in one of so low an Education; in short, his End was very exemplary and edifying to all: The Judge, tho' he had order'd his Head to be fix'd on an exalted publick Place, in terrorem, yet on hearing of his extraordinary Penitence, and Sermon at the Gallows to all young People, he countermanded said Order, and gave Leave that the Head should be buried with the Body.

'Tis remarkable of the Gang of Robbers of which this Man was the Head, that they never black'd their Faces, conceal'd their Names, robb'd a poor Man, or abus'd or tortur'd any one to confess their Money.

Last Week dy'd in the Four-Court Marshalls Gerard Burke, Esq; formerly a noted Lawyer, who was in Queen Anne's Reign one of her Council; As did also John Fitzpatrick, M. D.

Last Saturday the Lord Viscount Duncannon and his Lady, and Dr. Carew Reynell Bishop of Down and Connor, embark'd for Chester.

Mr. Henry Martin, who was to have been executed at Galway To-morrow for a Rape, is repriev'd for a Fortnight.

We hear, that on Tuesday last the House of the Right Hon. Sir Thomas Prenderghast, Bart. at Gort near Galway, was burnt to the Ground about twelve o'Clock at Night, occasion'd by the Carelessness of the Workmen in burning Shavings in one of the Rooms; and,

That a few Days ago the House and Out-offices near the Curragh of Kildare, belonging to Daniel Brown, Esq; were burnt to the Ground by accidental Fire.

LONDON.

We hear from Brussels in Flanders, that a few Days ago died in that City, the Marquis of Devenish, a Native of Ireland, born near Athlone: He went early into the French Service, but not being promoted, he went to the Duke of Lorraine, then Governor of the Netherlands, who made him a Captain, and soon after a Colonel: When he found the Duke in the French Interest, he quitted his Service for the Emperor's, went to London, and obtain'd Leave from Queen Anne to raise a Regiment of Foot in Ireland for the Emperor, which he soon completed, and was made Colonel thereof; but as several of these Men deserted to the French, it was thought proper to incorporate the rest with the German Troops, upon which he was made a Major-general, soon after a Marquis and Governor of Courtray in Flanders; in which Employment he dy'd in the 70th Year of his Age, leaving behind him the Character of a brave Soldier, and a Gentleman of great Honour.

Last Thursday, Mr. Alderman Nuthall, a Gentleman firmly attach'd to the Interest of his King and Country and universally belov'd by his Fellow-Citizens, was elected, without Opposition, Mayor of Norwich for the ensuing Year.

On Sunday Night last died Denham Hammond, Esq; Comptroller of the Chamber of this City.
